

This manual has been developed to provide the reader, architect, engineer, or agency representatives, with the necessary information to complete a construction project for the State of Kansas. These procedures were created in accordance with state statute and the accepted practices of architecture and engineering.

Any concerns or conflicts found in this manual should be brought to the attention of the Division of Facilities Management. Send comments in writing to DFMAS.Info@da.state.ks.us. In the subject line please reference the Building Design and Construction Manual.

It is our intent to update this manual annually; however major changes might require interim updates. Please check the website regularly for interim updates. Obtain copies of this manual by visiting our website at www.da.state.ks.us/fp/manual/. You are responsible for downloading the current version of the manual.

Division of Facilities Management
February 2006